

Figure 7.10 Retail Sales

Why is it important?

Retail sales indicate the level of economic activity occurring within a locality. While the importance of this has declined over time with the rise of the internet, more than 94% of all sales occur at brick and motor locations.

Source: Weldon Cooper Center, HRPDC

