

Figure 3.5 Age Distribution of Hampton Roads Population

Why is it important?

The age distribution of a region's population has both social and economic implications. It provides insight into the need for family and senior services, as well as indicating the availability of labor.

How are we doing?

The age distribution has remained stable in the region. The 65+ group is expected to start expanding rapidly as the baby boomers continue to age.