Ladies and Gentlemen:

Thank you for the very nice send-off on February 7, 2013. It is hard to beat a productive meeting followed by good food and conversation among a great group of professionals and friends.

I appreciate the opportunity to have worked with each of you through the years. It has been an educational, enjoyable and rewarding experience. I believe that, as a group, we have accomplished much regionally while bringing regional support to individual initiatives. The accomplishments that have been made were only possible because a group of highly skilled professionals came together to address common problems and opportunities. Collectively, we had and continue to have great technical support from our respective staffs and leadership support from a series of local elected officials and Chief Administrative Officers, the HRPDC Commissioners and Executive Directors. I am gratified that I have been able to play some role in these efforts.

While I appreciate the individual recognition that you accorded me, it has truly been a team effort. I will greatly miss the friendship and opportunity to work with each of you, your predecessors and staffs.

Best Wishes for continued regional success! As my first boss used to say – “Be Regionable!”

Thanks again.

Sincerely,

John M. Carlock
